

the agile
tester as a
harlequin

.. and what it implies

what we do as a tester ..

learning

mastering
the process

..and that
isn't easy

what we do as an agile tester ..

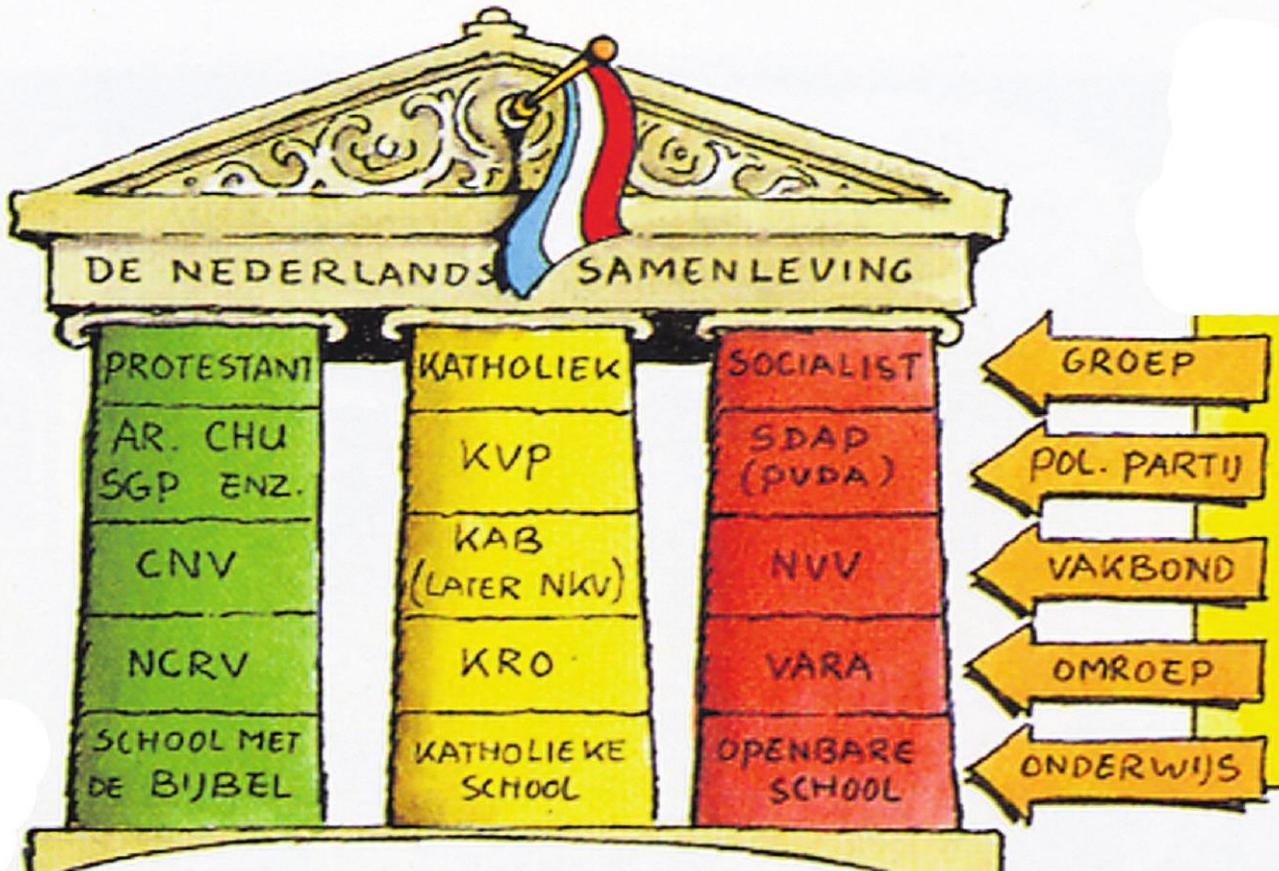

mono-
disciplinary
process
steps

mastering the process ourselves: history

expressionism
fauvism
cubism

mastering the process ourselves: history

dutch
history:
'zuilen' in
society

mastering the process ourselves: history

sixties
revoltes
in europe

mastering the process ourselves: history

arab spring

mastering the process ourselves: history

german
people rise
to welcome
refugees

mastering the process ourselves: history

making
small tasks

timeboxing

mastering the process ourselves: how i work

cello: over
controlled
play

mastering the process ourselves: how i work

policemen?

quality

gatekeeper?

position of the agile tester

paramedic

light harked

position of the agile tester

license of a court jester

ACTOR
COURT-JESTER
TRICKSTER
GLOWN
PIERROT
HARLEQUIN
JESTER
DROLL
JOKESTER
FOOL
TEASER
WISCRACKER
PUNCHINELLO
COMIC
JOKER
BUFFOON

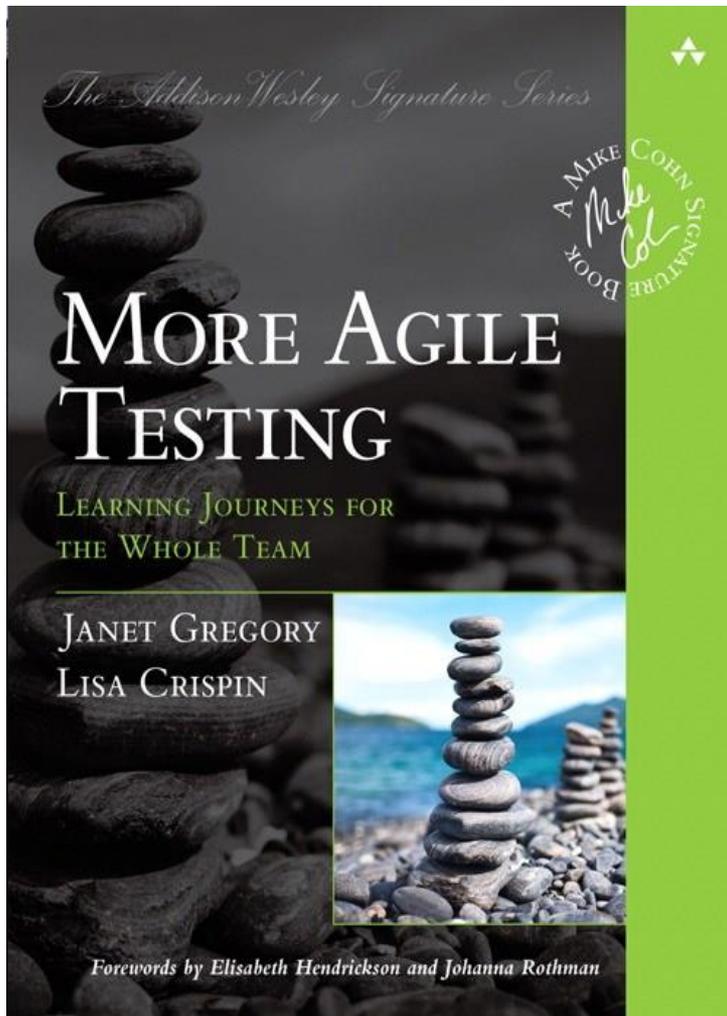

We have all seen how an appropriate and well-timed joke can sometimes influence even grim tyrants. . . . The most violent tyrants put up with their clowns and fools, though these often made them the butt of open insults.
—Desiderius Erasmus, Praise of Folly

the tester has a license

the art of asking
questions

the tester has a license

XP

thinking skills

guiding
development with
examples

context driven
testing

test automation

what's next

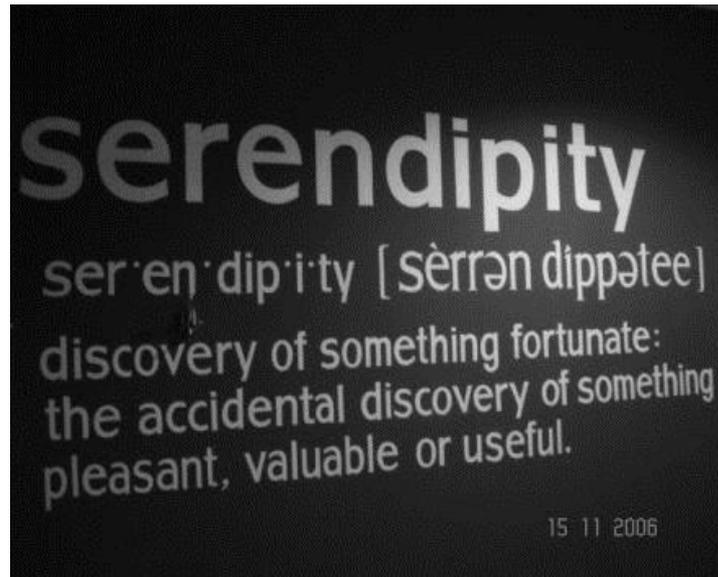

KEEP
CALM
AND TAKE SOME
TIME TO REFLECT

reflect

be unstable

open (that's a verb)

what's next

theory u

3 r's

what's next

learn,

be courageous

children
can be a bright
example

what's next

RATE THIS SESSIONS ON WWW.AGILETESTINGDAYS.COM

finally

marnix
van den ent

#myhumbug

finally: questions ?

marnixvdent@gmail.com